

Important information for our Quotient and Attemo customers

Dear Valued Pearson Customer,

Thank you for being one of our loyal customers. Pearson Clinical Assessment is proud to develop leading assessment tools that help skilled and compassionate professionals improve lives.

We are constantly assessing our portfolio of offerings to ensure that we are providing an optimal blend of solutions to our customers. This continuous assessment of our portfolio results in both additions to our offerings as well as occasional discontinuations. As part of a recent review, we have decided to cease offering Quotient®, effective December 31, 2019, and Attemo™ effective June 30, 2019.

While we will be discontinuing the specific Quotient and Attemo offerings from our portfolio, we remain committed to supporting the assessment of ADHD symptoms through our many other instruments, like the BASC-3 and the recently published Brown Executive Function/Attention Scales.

Here are some details on how this transition will work:

For our Quotient customers:

- We will honor all current Quotient subscriptions until December 31, 2019. If you do elect to renew your subscription, that next term may end on December 31, 2019.
- If you have hardware that is part of your subscription, we will send a prepaid label to return that hardware (machine only) to us once your subscription ends.

For our Attemo customers:

- You may continue to use Attemo until June 30th, 2019.
- You do not need to return any of the hardware purchased as part of your Attemo starter kit.

We value your trust over the years and we apologize for any disruption this might cause you. We understand that you may have questions regarding this announcement and what it means for you. Please refer to the FAQs or contact quotient_attemo_support@pearson.com.

Sincerely,

Pearson Clinical Assessment
